

InterAlia, a peer-edited scholarly journal for queer theory, is open to submissions from a wide range of fields, written either in Polish or in English. Among the issues we hope our contributors will address is the translatability of queer concepts across cultural and linguistic borders; the relationship between queer theory and activism; the possibility of reconciling the different positionings within the queer community that are related to such factors as gender, race, class, age, sexual practices, and geographical location; the relevance of queer studies for understanding the discourses, cultural practices, and institutions that surround us; and the potential of queer as a counterdiscourse or counterpractice.

InterAlia is an Open Access journal, which means that all content is freely available without charge to the user or his/her institution. Users are allowed to read, download, copy, distribute, print, search, or link to the full texts of the articles in this journal without asking prior permission from the publisher or the author, provided the original author and source are credited. Except where otherwise stated, all content on InterAlia's website is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 3.0 License (images and other media may be under different licences). Copyright for the content of the texts published in InterAlia stays with the Authors, whereas copyright for the edited versions stays with InterAlia.

The original version of each issue is the electronic one accessible at www.interalia.org.pl.

Dominika Ferens (University of Wrocław)

Tomasz Basiuk (University of Warsaw)

Tomasz Sikora (Pedagogical University of Cracow)

Rafał Majka (University of Social Sciences and Humanities, Warsaw)

Krzyszyna Mazur (University of Warsaw)

Marzena Lizurej (independent scholar and editor)

Łukasz Smuga (University of Wrocław)

ISSN 1689-6637

CONTACT: interalia_journal AT yahoo dot com

SUBSCRIBE

LIKE US ON FACEBOOK