

William Glass

William R. Glass earned a Ph. D. from Emory University and is a professor of social history at the American Studies Center of Warsaw University where he teaches classes on film history, Southern society, and American religion. For the 2003-04 academic year, he was a Fulbright lecturer in the American Studies Center at the University of Warsaw. He has published articles in journals on the religious history of the American South and one book: Strangers in Zion: Fundamentalists in the South, 1900-1950.